

Humble ISD receives Certificate of Excellence in Financial Reporting Award

Humble Independent School District received the Association of School Business Officials International's (ASBO) Certificate of Excellence in Financial Reporting Award for having met or exceeded the program's high standards for financial reporting and accountability. The district was recognized for its Comprehensive Annual Financial Report for the fiscal year ending 2013. Humble ISD has received the award every year since 1986.

"As the only award program specifically designed for school district financial reporting, the COE represents a significant achievement by the school district and finance department in meeting the highest standards of school financial reporting," said John D. Musso, Executive Director of the Association of School Business Officials International. "To receive the award, the district must satisfy specific guidelines for effective, high-quality financial reporting recognized by school business officials. The school district merits special recognition for receiving this prestigious award."

Ida Schultze serves as the district's Director of Accounting and Financial Reporting. Humble ISD's Chief Financial Officer is Lynn Lynn. Sponsored by VALIC, the Certificate of Excellence (COE) award confirms the school business office's commitment to financial accountability and transparency. Recognition through the COE program can help strengthen a district's presentation for bond issuance statements and promotes a high level of financial reporting.
