

Creekwood Middle School participates in service for smiles

Creekwood Middle School recently completed a special Service-Learning project. This project was brought to CMS by 6th grader Caroline Zinnecker. Caroline had endured many trips to the hospital. While in the hospital, friends would bring her games and books but she was too uncomfortable to enjoy them. When Caroline's grandmother brought her a cute pair of slippers, it put a smile on her face.

Because of her experience, Caroline started her own project, Slippers for Smiles. She began fundraising to provide new slippers for other young hospital patients. Through fundraisers at Elm Grove Elementary, Willow Creek Elementary, Woodland Hills Elementary and Kingwood High School, she has taken about 1500 pairs of slippers to Texas Children's Hospital.

This year Caroline became a part of the Creekwood Middle School service group, and the school recently held a fundraiser to help with her project. There are so many young patients in need of smiles, and Creekwood students are excited to have raised $700 and delivered over 150 pairs of slippers.
