

KHS Navy JROTC Honor Guard Raise the Flag on 9-11

KHS Navy JROTC Honor Guard participated in a flag-raising ceremony to commemorate those lost in the terrorist attacks on 9-11-2001. At that time, School Principal Dr. Ted Landry shared the following message: Twelve years ago... the planes struck in New York City, Washington, D.C., and in Pennsylvania. Twelve years ago...most of our seniors preparing to graduate this year were in the first grade then...but twelve years ago...and for years after...and for years to come...our graduates have stepped forward to say we will not forget...and we will stand up and do our very best to make sure something like this never happens again. Some of our graduates have paid the ultimate price in securing that freedom for us.

In remembrance of those lost, we share a moment of silence followed by the playing of TAPS. As I speak, our Navy JROTC Honor Guard is slowly hoisting the colors at the entrance of the school. Then, the flags will be lowered to half-mast until sundown. Please stand for the raising of the national colors, and join me in a moment of silence.

Above, NAVY JROTC Honor Guard, from left, Cadets Breed, Livingston, McGill, Levengood, Catalani, Anglemayer, McDougal, Broverone, and Rubio.
At left, With folded flags are Cadets Breed, Livingston, McGill, and Catalani.
At right, Cadets Broverone and Anglemayer.

